

The journal subjects

Scientific-theoretical journal “Proceedings of Gorsky State Agrarian University” aims to inform the scientific community and practitioners of the results of original scientific research in various fields of agricultural science, to help graduate students and young scientists to publish research results in the process of working on theses.

At the present time the journal is included into the recommended by the Higher Certifying Commission “List of leading peer-reviewed scientific journals and issues that should publish major scientific results of doctoral and candidate’s theses” in:

- 03.02.14 – Biological resources (biological sciences),
- 06.01.01 – General agriculture crop production (agricultural sciences),
- 06.01.04 – Agrochemistry (agricultural sciences),
- 06.02.04 – Veterinary Surgery (Veterinary Sciences),
- 06.02.08 – Feed production, feeding livestock and feed technology
(agricultural sciences),
- 06.02.10 – Private animal husbandry, livestock production technology
(agricultural sciences).

Authors of scientific articles should bear in mind that the main research theme of Gorsky State Agrarian University is “Scientific support for sustainable development of the agro-industrial complex of mountain and foothill areas”.